

Increasingly attractive risk and reward

We like HMPRO, which has seen a good move up in SSS in 4Q24TD, with SSS contraction slowing in HomePro to 2-3% YoY (vs -6% YoY in 3Q24) and actual SSS growth in MegaHome at 4-5% YoY (vs -4% YoY in 3Q24), backed by the return of demand after the flooding, plus more government budget disbursement and better purchasing power after the Bt10,000 cash handout. With better SSS, continued store expansion and wider margin, we expect 4Q24F earnings to grow YoY and QoQ. HMPRO is now trading at an attractive 20x 2024PE (below -2S.D. at 22x its 10-year PE) at a time when earnings will grow; it also can be seen as a sector proxy for potential new stimulus, such as a tax break on shopping. We maintain Outperform with a mid-2025 DCF TP (WACC at 7.0% and LT growth rate at 2.5%) of B13.

Catalyst #1: Sign of SSS improvement in 4Q24TD. In October, SSS seems to have improved from 3Q24, contracting just 2-3% YoY at HomePro (80% of sales), vs -6% YoY in 3Q24, and growing 4-5% YoY at MegaHome (18% of sales), vs -4% YoY in 3Q24. The unchanged YoY growth in weekly figures vs monthly implies that there is no specific factor contributing to the abnormal rise in figures. Underwriting the improvement was better sales upcountry (51% of sales), with sales continuing weak in Bangkok. By region, SSS uplift was led by the north (accounting for 15% of sales for HomePro and more than 20% of sales for MegaHome) where 2% YoY was added to SSS in both formats in October as demand returned after the flooding receded in Chiang Mai and Chiang Rai (where it has four stores, 3% of total stores), followed by the eastern, central and southern regions on better purchasing power after the Bt10,000 cash handout to 14.5mn people in late September, greater government investment budget disbursement off last year's low base (+164% YoY in October) and more tourists.

HMPRO expects SSS upcountry to further strengthen, led by demand post flooding related to appliances in the first month and renovations and repair for the next 3-6 months, similar to what was seen after the severe flooding in 2011. SSS in Bangkok is expected to improve gradually at end-2024F off a normal base from road construction in front of the HomePro Ratchapruek store since late 2023 (sliced 1% YoY off SSS YTD), and mid-2025F upon the completion of road construction.

Catalyst #2: Expect better earnings in 4Q24F. The higher SSS, the planned opening of four new stores (three HomePro in Mae Sot, Chiang Mai and Phuket, and a MegaHome in Sriracha) and a continued widening in margin from more high-margin private brand sales at both MegaHome and HomePro and controlled SG&A/sales via expansion in the hybrid format (HomePro adjacent to MegaHome, allowing cost sharing) leads us to expect 4Q24F earnings to grow YoY and QoQ.

Catalyst #3: Attractive valuation, with earnings improving and the sector proxy for upcoming stimulus. We see HMPRO as trading at an unjustified level of 20x 2024PE (below -2S.D. at 22x its 10-year PE) in view of its attractive dividend yield of 3.9%, upcoming earnings improvement and as the sector's proxy for potential new stimulus such as a tax break on shopping. Tax breaks on shopping were approved eight times in 2015-23. The most recent, giving a tax deduction on up to Bt50,000 in purchases, ran from Jan 1 – Feb 15, 2024 and added 1-2% YoY to SSS.

Key risks are changes in purchasing power and new government policies. Key ESG risks are energy & waste management, sustainable products (E) and product quality management, labor practices and data privacy (S).

Value proposition

Home Product Center (HMPRO) is Thailand's leading home improvement retailer. At end-2023, it had retail spaces in 128 stores (net saleable area at 1.05mn sqm, +14% YoY), consisting of 89 stores in the HomePro format (3K-10K sqm per store), five stores in the HomePro S format (1.2K-2K sqm per store), 27 stores in the MegaHome format (15K-20K sqm per store) and seven stores in the HomePro format in Malaysia. At end-2023, it had five community shopping malls, HomePro Village stores (in Hua Hin, Suvarnabhumi, Ratchapruuek, Phuket and Pathum Thani), managing both retail space and rental space, with net leasable area at 149K sqm.

Of 9M24 sales, 80% came from HomePro, 18% from MegaHome and 2% from HomePro in Malaysia. Within 2023 sales, 49% came from Bangkok (42% from stores and 7% from E-commerce) and vicinity and 51% from upcountry. Of 2023 saleable area, 40% was in stores in Bangkok and vicinity and 60% in upcountry stores.

Business outlook

Its 2024 strategies are to: 1) increase sales via new stores, offering new sales channels (apart from stores, online, third-party marketplace, i.e., Shopee, Lazada and One Stock Home – a website offering construction materials, tools and decoration items), raising product SKUs, offering up to 100K SKUs via its online application vs 60-70K SKUs in its current online application and 40K SKUs in stores; 2) improve the customer experience by offering a lifetime ecosystem with offers of trade-in purchases, home services, repair centers and waste management to recycle into new products (targets sales from circularity products at 20% of sales in 2030); 3) improve the supply chain, with better inventory consolidation from stores and distribution centers and better management of its fulfillment center in terms of efficiency and delivery.

In 2024, HMRPO targets sales growth from SSS growth and the addition of nine stores (six HomePro and three MegaHome). It targets widening gross margin at both HomePro and MegaHome formats by 20bps YoY via a more favorable product mix with higher high-margin private brands and more bargaining power with suppliers, but overall gross margin will be stable YoY off a faster rise in low-margin sales at MegaHome. It targets lower SG&A/sales on better cost control, off last year's high base on store expansion expenses and expansion of the hybrid format (HomePro adjacent to MegaHome) at 5 stores in 2024.

In mid-2024, HMPRO announced a decision to withdraw its investment in online sales through marketplaces in Vietnam due to: 1) slow revenue growth from low income per capita; 2) high rental expense for investment in stores; 3) legal complexities in opening stores. It expects to complete the liquidation by 1H25. At that time, it will record a divestment expense of Bt21mn, but the move will eliminate the Bt10mn annual expense losses from Vietnam, resulting in an insignificant net expense loss of less than Bt10mn (estimated at 0.1% of annual profit).

With consumers starting to prefer the greater convenience offered by ordering online, online sales contributed 6.7% of total sales in 2023 (vs 6.2% in 2022 and 1% pre-COVID in 2019). It earlier invested in an online platform and automated distribution center and expects these to support online sales growth without any further major investment.

Bullish views	Bearish views
1. Resumption of domestic activities as the economy revives	1. Weak purchasing power from high household debt
2. Rental income to improve as it raises rental rate for tenants as the economy revives	2. Rental income to grow slowly from fragile purchasing power
3. SSS growth will be aided by disbursement of the FY2025 government budget (Oct 2024-Sep 2025), off the low base from FY2024's 7-month delay in budget approval	3. Moderate or slow disbursement of the government investment budget to reserve some funds for stimulus measures

Our view on ESG

Key ESG risks are energy & waste management, sustainable products (E) and product quality management, labor practices and data privacy (S). On the environmental issue, we view that HMPRO is in the leading position compared to peers to show its long-term commitment to cope with climate resilience (net zero target), along with more aggressive target than peers (but seems achievable based on its progress) on energy & waste management and sustainable products. On social issue, we view its satisfied product quality management compared to peers, with its employee turnover rate was the sector's lowest in 2023.

ESG Ratings and Indices

Bloomberg ESG Financial Materiality Score 6.72 (2022)

Rank in Sector	1/33
----------------	------

Environmental Issue (E)

- By 2050, HMPRO aims to achieve net zero emission (vs 2% in 2023), from the decarbonization (i.e., renewable energy, green logistics, zero waste management) and carbon removal (i.e., no deforestation, forest preservation).
- By 2030, it targets GHG reduction per store at 50% from 2014 (vs 41% in 2023) and switch to renewable energy at 100% for the stores in which the buildings are owned by the company (vs 28% in 2022).
- By 2030, it aims to achieve zero waste target at 100% (vs 84% in 2023).
- By 2025, HMPRO targets eco products sales mix (i.e., organic & recycled products, and health & safety products) at 50% of sales (vs 48% in 2023) and product sales mix that promote responsible plastic consumption at 100% of sales (vs 60% in 2023). By 2030, it targets sales mix of circular products of 20% (vs none as this target was set in 2023).
- We view that HMPRO is in the leading position compared to peers to show its long-term commitment to cope with climate resilience (net zero target), along with more aggressive target than peers (but seems achievable based on its progress) on energy & waste management and sustainable products.

Governance Issue (G)

- In 2023, HMPRO's board of directors consists of 11 directors. Of total, three were female numbers (27% of the entire board), 4 were independent directors (36% of the entire board), and 10 were non-executive directors (91% of the entire board). We view the variety of its board composition leads peers, with high expertise and experience persons, with gender diversity.
- In 2023, its chairman of board was not the highest-ranking executive, showing independency in board structure.
- In 2023, the number of board of directors meeting was 12 times and the number of audit committee meeting was 12 times. The regular meetings help it to enhance effectiveness in overseeing business management.
